

Our Land Together

Tune: This Land is Your Land, lyrics by Woody Guthrie; traditional gospel tune
Lyrics: Marjorie Matthews & Joy Morgen & others

This land is our land, our land together
And when we share it, it just gets better
When we look out for our friends and neighbors
That's what America should be.

This land has people of all religions
We're all Americans beneath diverse skins
If you wear head scarves or hold a rosary
This land was made for you and me.

This land is queer folk, and newly here folk
Female and male folk, dark-skinned and pale folk
With our commitment to love and liberty
We'll re-make this land for you and me.

From many countries, we've brought traditions
And we can share them here in Wisconsin!
Forward together, in peace and harmony
This land was made for you and me.

This land holds some truths to be self-evident:
That inequality is un-American!
We live together and we can all be free
When this land ... achieves its destiny! [slow down, watching director/each other]
