

Abortion Rights

Tune: Battle Hymn of the Republic

Lyrics: Marjorie Matthews, slightly revised to emphasize health care

We're the Raging Grannies and it's turning our hair gray
These legislative plots to take abortion rights away
Our mothers fought these battles, now we fight again today!
Not one step back! No way!

Women get to make our choices,
The right wing cannot steal our voices
Women and their doctors have the final right to choose
Not one step back! No way!

They want to take us back in time, take women's rights away
Ignore the 50 years we've had since courts heard Roe v Wade
But our right to modern health care/ must not be stripped away
Not one step back! No way!

No more dying in back alleys, [optional: wave hangers]
We'll keep raging in these rallies
Until we stop these crazy schemes against abortion rights
We'll rage for women's lives!

We've got to vote for people who will champion this cause
Stand firm upon the solid ground that undergirds our laws
Our lives hang in the balance if abortion rights are lost
Not one step back! No way!

Women get to make our choices,
the right wing cannot steal our voices
Women and their doctors have the final right to choose
Not one step back! No way!
